Auditor Raybould Now Ready to Make Transfers.

Monday next and the calendar now shows there are sixty-four cases to be heard at he coming term. Two of these cases come from Judge Smith's court, two from Judge Anderson's, four from Judge Blackburn's, eight from Judge Bartch's, twenty-four from Judge Bartch's, twenty-four from Judge Miner's and twenty-seven from Judge Zane's. During the time Judge Smith has occupied the bench, there have been entered up about three hundred judgments in civil cases and about one hundred criminals arraigned before him, and up to this date, there have only been two appeals perfected, and one of these is an appeal from a judgment entered by default. This speaks well for Utah's new judge and shows that Cleveland made no mistake in appointing him to this position. A BUSH OF WORKINGMEN

The chairmen of the several precinct Democratic campaign committees are requested to meet with the general committee at room 6. Wasatch block, at II a. m. today—without fall. With a new set of Utah men on the commission and a square deal in the enabling act there is no reason why the constitutional convention should be composed of the best men in Utah.
